Morris Company Is Purchased by North American Provision Company, Subsidiary of Armour.

$27,450,000 IS GIVEN
AS PRICE PAID

Cash Paid Is $2,750,000, With Balance in Stocks of Different Armour Concerns.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Chicago, March 28.—The acquisition of the Morris & Co. packing interests by Armour & Co. through a subsidiary, has been completed, according to an announcement tonight by J. Ogden Armour, chairman of the board of Armour & Co. The North American Provision company, subsidiary of Armour & Co. of Delaware, was named as the firm acquiring Morris & Co.'s business.

Regarding the protest against the purchase, made by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Mr. Armour's statement declared that "if this results in a hearing or court procedure, we will gladly co-operate with the government in securing the presentation of all information and facts necessary to a proper and final adjudication."

To Save Millions
"Circumstances, supported by business judgment and sound common sense, endorse the wisdom of the purchase of the Morris assets, and eminent counsel have given assurance of its legality."

Combining the business, the statement continued, will save millions of dollars in administrative and operating costs through elimination of duplication of operating units.

Payments will be made to Morris & Co. approximately as follows: $2,750,000 in cash, $5,000,000 par value preferred stock of Armour & Co. of Delaware; $9,000,000 par value preferred stock of Armour & Co. of Illinois; $10,700,000 par value common (class A) stock of Armour & Co. of Illinois.

To facilitate the transaction and furnish additional working capital an additional $10,000,000 of the first 5 1/2 per cent bonds of Armour & Co. of Delaware, will be placed through Morris interests, it being agreed that neither these bonds nor the $5,000,000 of Delaware stock are to go on the market for a year.

Financing Details.
The North American Provision company will be capitalized at $10,000,000, of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $30,000,000 of common stock, all owned by the Delaware company except about $8,000,000 of the preferred stock, will be issued to acquire a like amount of the preferred stock of Armour & Co. as a part of the purchase price. The Morris & Co. funded debt will be assumed by the North American Provision company.

Armour & Co. now owns and operates 160 packing plants and operates 332 branch houses for distribution of its products while Morris & Co. owns and operates seven packing houses and 164 branch houses. Armour's sales for 1922 were $160,000,000 and those of Morris $240,000,000.

The combination represents a combined capital of approximately $500,000,000, while the aggregate number of employees is about 63,000.

Edward and Nelson Morris, of Morris & Co., made no statement tonight except a large announcement of the sale to Armour & Co. T. R. Buckham, secretary of Morris & Co., will remain with the Morris brothers, but many department heads will go to Wilson Co., including Treasurer C. Mack Farlane, who will become a vice president of Wilson & Co. Thomas P. Wilson, formerly was president of Morris & Co.

McAdoo, Al Smith, Cox, Underwood and Ford Figures Showing Up at This Time.

SEVERAL MOVEMENTS
FOR FORD STARTED

Religious Issue Biggest Handicap for Cox—Underwood Regarded as Among Best Prospects.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
United News Staff Correspondent.
New York, March 28.—At the present writing there are five band wagons upon which diverse and summary democratic leaders are clamoring to the nomination of Messrs. William G. McAdoo, Al Smith, James H. Cox, Oscar Underwood and Henry Ford, respectively. Roughly, it might be said also that the band wagons are constituted, at this writing, of the following materials in the form of campaign issues.

McAdoo—Rigid enforcement of the prohibition law and greater control by the people, if not actually public operation of the railroads and mines.

Al Smith—Modification of the Volstead law and business government.

Cox—The league of nations.

Underwood—More conservative application of democratic principles—a conservative business administration.

Henry Ford—Abolition of the gold standard, creation of energy units and, above all, building to increase the productivity of the farmer.

Ford Movements.
At the present moment, all of the visible political energies are being exerted in behalf of one of these five men. Opponents of Ford declare that, despairing of a chance to get the republican nomination, he will accept a democratic nomination if needed.

And there are some prominent democratic leaders who believe that Ford would make the strongest standard-bearer they could nominate to win agricultural sections of the west and south. In all events, there are several Ford movements getting under way—most of them started in New York, where Ford is now.

Alleged Attempt To Snatch Purse
Ended by Bullet

One Negro in Critical Condition at Hospital—Companion Arrested.

Leroy Byron, alias Cliff Andrews, was shot and probably fatally wounded on Ponce de Leon avenue near DuPont place late Wednesday night by Detective V. H. Whitley, just as the negro, according to reports, was about to snatch the purse of a woman, whose identity had not been learned at an early hour Thursday morning.

Byron was accompanied by James Austin, negro.

According to Detectives Whitley and John C. Davis, who were following the negroes, the two had recently been shot at South Pryor and Rawson streets, but made their escape.

The purse stolen there belonged to Mrs. K. George, 406 East Georgia avenue, and they had seen the negroes get on a Ponce de Leon street car, while they followed in a taxicab.

At DuPont place the two negroes alighted from the car, and started up Ponce de Leon avenue.

When they had walked several blocks the negroes separated, one crossing the street and the other remaining on the sidewalk on which the woman was walking.

The officers did likewise. As the woman came within several feet of Byron, who was hiding in the shadow of a post, Officer Whitley grabbed him.

The negro struck at the policeman with a jagged instrument, Whitley responding with a shot. Austin, Byron's alleged confederate, did not offer any resistance to Officer Davis, who arrested him.

Byron was taken to Grady hospital, where doctors say he is not expected to live. Austin was taken to police station, where after having been questioned by officers, admitted, it is said, being implicated in numerous purse-snatching cases.

When arrested Austin had $1.77, and Byron had $67.

Reporter on Stand.
Hook was permitted to testify that the afternoon before the riots he had seen Fontanetta lead a crowd into a Marion hardware store and had heard him say: "There are 14 of our brothers in the trenches and killed. We must get arms and ammunition. Let's go to the American Legion and get the American Legion guns."

Donald M. Ewing, a newspaperman, testified that he had arrived in Marion from Chicago the morning of the riots, had taken an automobile to the mine where the trouble started and then had gone on toward Herrin, where he found six men lying in the road, surrounded by a crowd of about 150 persons.

The witness said three of the men were dead, one was still breathing and two were conscious and begging for water. He declared he had tried to give one a drink, but had been prevented.

Witnesses Tell Of Money Sent To Victor Innes

Testify That at Times Mrs. Dennis Used Assumed Names in Sending Funds.

As the third day of the trial of Victor E. Innes, charged with using the mails to defraud, wore on Wednesday, an unusual feature of interest crept into the hearing as the prosecution began introducing evidence apparently in an attempt to establish by inference and to Innes' disadvantage, why it is necessary to rely on memory of the principal documents alleged to have been sent through the mails instead of presenting the letters themselves in attempting to prove that the defendant used the mails to defraud Mrs. Elvise Nelms Dennis, who with her sister, Miss Beatrice Nelms, disappeared in Texas nearly 10 years ago and of whom nothing definite has yet been learned.

Following completion of cross-examination of Marshall Nelms, brother of the two missing girls, a number of other witnesses for the prosecution were put on the stand. Much of the evidence being submitted is in documentary form, and a number of the witnesses for the government were not acquainted with Innes under that name, and identified him as the man whom they knew under different names.

Cashier Testifies.
Principal steps of the government Wednesday were to present evidence to show that Mrs. Dennis actually conveyed funds to Innes. J. B. Corn, cashier of the bank at Smyrna, stated that Mrs. Dennis had issued at his bank New York drafts approximating a total of $2,000. This testimony was backed up by records of the bank, presented in court but not submitted as evidence.

L. T. Miel, cashier of the Western Union Telegraph company in Atlanta during the period of 1913-14, when it is alleged Innes fraudulently procured the money from Mrs. Dennis, testified that the alleged victim purchased telegraph money orders at his office, making them payable to Victor E. Innes, and one made payable to M. M. Cavenagh.

E. O. Bailey, assistant cashier for the Western Union, testified that he personally handled the telegraph money orders in question, and that Mrs. Dennis sent a number, signing her correct name, and that afterward she conveyed funds in this manner, signing different names, among them being John L. Bennett and J. Lorenzo. Documentary evidence in the form of copies of these money orders and receipts given by the Western Union were submitted and identified by the witnesses.

Robbery of Home.
Efforts of the defense to shake the testimony designed to prove Innes guilty of using the mails to defraud by breaking down testimony as to contents of certain letters, which have been lost, were in part countered by the prosecution during Wednesday when testimony was introduced tending to show that Innes was in Atlanta at the time the Nelms home was robbed several years ago, at

Associated Press Staff Man Closely Grilled as to Rules for Members.

Marion, Ill., March 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Only two witnesses were called to the stand by the prosecution at the resumption of the trial of Hugh Willis, state executive board member of the Illinois Mine workers, and five other defendants charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots, most of the session being taken up by a legal battle which was won by the defense.

The first witness was J. C. Hook, former manager of an insurance office in Marion, which specialized in working men's compensation insurance. He was called to tell of an alleged admission made by Phillip Fontanetta, a defendant, for whose family he had handled a compensation claim.

Judge D. T. Hartwell sustained an objection by the defense to Hook's telling of the alleged admission made by Fontanetta had consulted him as a lawyer and that therefore the communication was confidential and privileged.

PROBE IS ORDERED OF EXPENDITURE OF SCHOOL MONEY

Committee to Make Thorough Investigation Appointed by Atlanta Federation of Trades.

Calling attention to promises made by advocates of the $8,500,000 bond issue that the public school building program would contemplate the erection of only the most modern appointed and highest classed educational structures, and stating that information has been received that none of the buildings planned and now in course of construction will be furnished with gymnasiums, auditoriums and other equipment considered essential to present-day school buildings, the Atlanta Federation of Trades, last night authorized the appointment of a committee to investigate "the expenditure of money on our schools and to ascertain why these buildings are not being constructed in line with the promises made the citizens of this community."

The resolution was adopted unanimously, and without discussion by the delegates. The measure follows approval made at previous meetings of the central labor body by Superintendent Willis A. Sutton, of the Atlanta school system, and Miss Mary Pansy Aiken, also of the school office, both of whom asked for the cooperation of the federation in a movement to better the present school situation and to work for a more satisfactory handling of the future program for the local educational institutions.

Committee Is Named.
After the adoption of the resolution President Emmett L. Quinn appointed a committee as follows: Charles A. Grappling, Carl Karston, Walter C. Caraway (also member of the bond commission), William Van Houten, J. A. Miller and W. B. Honea.

The resolution:
"Whereas, several months ago the people of Atlanta by an overwhelming vote passed a bond issue of $8,500,000 wherein was included $4,000,000 to develop and extend the public schools, and

"Whereas, it is now apparent that in the erection of the schools as provided in the bond issue the new buildings, including the Girls High and Boys' High schools, there has been no provision made for auditoriums and such other things as would make a school building modern in every respect and which was promised the people during the campaign for bonds,

"Therefore, be it resolved, That the president be authorized to appoint a committee from this federation to make a thorough investigation into the expenditures of money on our schools to ascertain why these buildings are not being constructed in line with the promises made the citizens of this community and report their findings to the federation.

Gloria Swanson Made Defendant In Divorce Suit

Husband of Famous Movie Star Charges Desertion in Complaint.

Los Angeles, March 28.—Gloria Swanson, motion picture actress, was made defendant in a divorce suit filed today by Herbert K. Sornborn, her husband. The complaint charges desertion.

Miss Swanson was married to her present husband in December, 1915, just a year after her first husband, Wallace Beery, film actor, obtained a decree of divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Persistent rumors that their married life was troubled culminated in an announcement by Miss Swanson in September, 1921, that the "report that my husband and I have separated is true."

Sornborn later verified this announcement, but said a divorce was not contemplated.

Crucial Campaign Period Here; Super-Effort Urged

"Rain Indicated; Don't be Halted," Help-Yourself Club Members Told by Club Management.

With only three days remaining in the Help-Yourself club period, and with indications Wednesday pointing to a strong possibility of rainy weather, the club management again pointed out the vital importance of keeping on the job during the final hours of the campaign.

"Don't let rain halt your activities," was the warning issued. "Indications are that we are in for a spell of bad weather, but if you are wise you will carry on your campaign without interruption regardless of adverse conditions."

"You'd feel badly later on if you were brought to realize that a spring shower or two had caused you to lose a beautiful car—so you stand warned that a halt at this time would prove disastrous."

"Center your whole mind on getting votes during today, Friday and Saturday to the exclusion of everything else. You'll be more than glad that you devoted all your energies to the campaign when you win one of the sixteen prizes offered as capital and district awards."

"Remember that competition is close and that you will either succeed or fail by only a few votes. Hard work, early and late—will give you the votes necessary to win."

"Whether you succeed or fail depends solely upon your efforts during today, Friday and Saturday. If you are wise you'll take the hint."

"Let's go."

PROBE OF SUGAR PRICES IS BEGUN BY TARIFF BODY

Tariff Commission Meets Wednesday and Discusses President Harding's Order for Investigation.

HOOVER SAYS PRICES
WILL REDUCE SALES

Consumption Will Drop and Production Increase, Responding to High Prices, Says Secretary.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, March 28.—Outstanding developments here today in the sugar situation were the announcement by the tariff commission that, in compliance with instructions from President Harding its inquiry into the effect of new import duty of prices would be more far-reaching than originally was intended and the prediction by Secretary Hoover that present prices would result in decreased consumption and increased production.

When the tariff commission met today it had before it the president's telegram sent Tuesday night from St. Augustine, Fla., directing that it establish whether the new tariff was keeping the retail price of sugar at high levels. The commission which already had initiated an investigation at the request of the Cuban producers to determine whether a reduction in the sugar duties was advisable under flexible provisions of the tariff law, decided at once to increase scope of its inquiry.

Six Months' Job.
Members of the commission predicted it probably would be six months before a comprehensive study of production costs in Cuba, Porto Rico and Hawaii, as well as the United States and of local stocks and world supplies on various dates could be completed and recommendations submitted to the president who has authority to alter the tariff rates.

Mr. Hoover's prediction was made in a letter to Representative Ballinger, republican, Massachusetts, who had asked for information as to the present situation.

DAUGHERTY GIVES BLACKMAIL NAME
IN KEENAN CASE

Son of Attorney General Appears Voluntarily Before Assistant District Attorney Investigating Case.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York, March 28.—The line of public interest which was shifted from character to character in the Dorothy Keenan murder case tonight was focused on the identity of the man who Major Draper M. Daugherty, son of the United States attorney general, said had threatened to blackmail him because of his acquaintance with the model, unless he got him a job with the department of justice.

Daugherty, appearing voluntarily before Ferdinand Pecora, assistant district attorney, discussed with him his acquaintance with the slain girl and then, avoiding reporters, vanished after giving the prosecutor the name of the alleged blackmail.

This name Mr. Pecora kept to himself. The only hint that he would give newspaper men was that the man in question already had been questioned in connection with another matter.

Reporter Foiled.
The newspaper men encountered the same difficulty interviewing Daugherty as they did when the mysterious "Mr. Marshall," the girl's elderly admirer, later revealed as J. K. Mitchell, Philadelphia capitalist and chairman, was the capital figure in the drama.

Mr. Pecora, who for nine days shielded Mitchell from the press, today took the same precautions to see that Daugherty's wishes to avoid interviews were fulfilled. The latest witness was whisked in and out of the criminal courts building, and his meeting with Mr. Pecora held in the office of another prosecutor.

Trusts Daugherty.
Daugherty, who was accompanied by a friend, whose name was not revealed, was closeted with Mr. Pecora about 45 minutes. At the end of the conference, Mr. Pecora said he had confirmed newspaper reports of his casual friendship with Miss Keenan and the attempt made by telephone to blackmail him. The blackmail angle was what particularly interested the

SUICIDE THEORY IN COSTLEY CASE

Blanton's Attorneys Present Testimony in Support of Theory That Costley Killed Himself.

In support of a theory that R. A. Costley, McDonough road merchant, killed himself and was not shot by Henry Blanton, the taxicab driver indicted for the murder of Costley, testimony was presented Wednesday afternoon during the Blanton trial to show that Costley was mentally distressed owing to financial straits before the shooting.

When Judge John D. Humphries recessed court at 5 o'clock Wednesday until Thursday morning Attorney Ralph McClelland, of the firm of Key McClelland & McClelland, counsel for Blanton, stated that witnesses will be introduced Thursday to show that Blanton could not have been in the vicinity of Grant Park, where Costley was found wounded at the time of the shooting.

Bought Bankrupt Stock.
It was testified Wednesday by witnesses for Blanton that Costley had purchased a bankrupt stock of goods at Palmetto, Ga., on the Friday before he was found shot on Monday, February 17, and had offered in part payment checks which were not cashed at the bank.

Several widely known Atlantians told the jury that Costley had made attempts on Saturday and on the following Monday morning to borrow various amounts ranging from $300 to $800. In each instance he was refused the loan, they said. On cross-examination the witnesses stated they believed his "redit to be good but were financially unable to make the loan. Costley seemed to be laboring under considerable mental distress, it was testified.

Early in the trial Wednesday the prosecution introduced a Grady hospital in which he said that he was riding in an automobile with Blanton and another man near Grant park

State Department Asks Soviet Government to Spare Lives of Church Dignitaries.

WALSH CARRIES PLEA
FROM CATHOLIC POPE

Archbishop and Administrator Doomed by Soviet Court to Be Executed in Moscow Today.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, March 28.—The state department has taken steps, it was officially announced late today, to convey to the soviet government, through the American ambassador at Berlin, the "earnest hope" that the lives of Archbishop Zepeliak and Monsignor Butskavitch of the Catholic church, under sentence to be executed tomorrow in Moscow, "may be spared."

Decision to take action in regard to the executions planned by soviet authorities was announced in the following formal statement:

"With reference to the report of the death sentence passed on Archbishop Zepeliak and other Roman Catholic ecclesiastics in Russia, the department of state has taken steps, through the American ambassador in Berlin, to give expression to the humanitarian interest of the American people, and their earnest hope that the lives of these ecclesiastics may be spared."

Earlier in the day protests against the executions had been received by the department from the Catholic club of New York City.

The two were sentenced to death after conviction on charges of fomenting counter-revolutionary plots, but the execution was postponed.

According to word received in vatican circles, Walsh was assured, before the trial, that the death sentences would be suspended.

FIRE ON OIL FARM, LOSS IS $500,000

New Orleans, March 28.—A fire which swept through the oil farm of the Sinclair Oil Refining company, at Moreauville, on the Mississippi river, nine miles below New Orleans today, destroyed eight steel tanks and their contents of approximately 300,000 barrels of crude oil and gasoline. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

The fire started early today when two tanks, each containing 35,000 barrels of oil were struck by lightning. Despite the efforts of a large force of the company's employees assisted by firemen from New Orleans, the blaze spread to nearby tanks and it was not until 3 o'clock this afternoon that the fire was brought under control.

The $500,000 refining plant of the company, which recently resumed operation after a shut-down of two years, was not damaged.

EVANGELISM SCHOOL IN EAST POINT CLOSES

Judge T. O. Hathcock Presides Over Meetings at East Point Church.

East Point, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—With the closing of the evangelistic school which has been held at the East Point Christian church during the week, this town has witnessed one of the greatest meetings in its history. Judge T. O. Hathcock, of Atlanta, who is president of the western district of Georgia, presided at the different sessions.

hour Tuesday, the house was packed. During the night services, looking pictures were featured, showing what work is being done in the different states by group evangelism in the way of establishing Sunday schools and building churches.

Many visitors from other towns and states were in attendance at this meeting. Quite a number of the pastors of the local churches were upon the program, and made interesting talks upon church work.

Those from a distance, taking an active part, were Rev. C. J. Sharp, of Hammond, Ind.; Rev. Taverne Harrison, of Cincinnati, Ohio; and J. E. Sturgis, song leader of Cincinnati.

POULTRY RAISERS IN FLOYD UNITE

Rome, Ga., March 28.—Floyd county poultry raisers Tuesday formed an association and will immediately launch a movement for the establishment of a large co-operative hatchery. The following officers were elected: H. A. Spencer, president; Mrs. W. H. Mitchell and P. T. Lester, vice presidents; Ed L. King, secretary. The organization pledged co-operation with the banks of Rome in an offer that has been made by them to finance anyone who desires to secure a flock of pure bred chickens. The banks condition their offer on the recommendation of all applicants by County Agents M. H. Collins and Miss Jessie Burton. The association approved the farmers' advisory council program of 100 pure bred hens on every farm in the county.

AMERICUS LIGHT PLANT UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

Hydro-Electric Energy Soon to Be Delivered in Americus, Ga.

Americus, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—The South Georgia Public Service company today took over ownership and operation of the entire properties of the Americus Lighting company. The consideration involved in the deal, which is said to have been more than $250,000, was made public by L. L. Ferree, general manager of the new concern, who authorized announcement of the transfer here this morning.

years has paid no dividend. This department will continue in operation solely as a convenience to Americus residents, many of whom depend upon gas for use in cooking and other fuel purposes. B. P. Ewing, manager for the old company here, will continue in that capacity with the new owners.

In announcing the purchase of the local electric and gas properties, Ferree stated the building of power transmission lines between Albany and Americus would begin immediately from this end of the line. Rights of way for the entire distance have already been secured, with three exceptions, and condemnation proceedings are to be instituted in each of these instances without delay, Ferree says. The line is now already practically complete between Albany and Smithville, and only a short time will be required to finish the line into Americus after condemnation proceedings are completed.

With a delivery of hydro-electric energy on the switchboard in Americus certain reductions in rates already agreed upon between city council and the South Georgia Public Service company, and which it is said, will represent a saving of approximately $2,000 monthly to local electric consumers, will be inaugurated. There will be no change made in the gas rate at this time.

SEEK TO FORM STATE DENTAL DEPARTMENT

Fairburn Legislator Will Present Bill at Next Session.

Fairburn, Ga., March 27.—A bill establishing a dental department as a part of the state board of health and requiring that department to educate the people of the state to the necessity of protecting their teeth as a method of preventing disease is to be introduced at the coming term of the legislature by Lawrence S. Camp, member of the legislature from this county, according to a statement by Mr. Camp.

existing tax equalization laws. Mr. Camp believes, declaring that the coming legislature must repeal the equalization law because a majority of the people of the state favor the repeal "and under our system of government the majority shall rule the land."

"I fully believe that the end of the coming session will find this law wiped from the statute books of our state and a tax on incomes adopted as a substitute," Mr. Camp says.

Mr. Camp expresses the opinion that the state highway department has made some errors but fewer "than the average business of the same magnitude."

He favors any legislation that will give the state an efficient department, he says, stating that "the engineer should not be held responsible for the success or failure of this department, but the highway board should be made responsible and I hope to see amendments passed making this change."

Beavers Pushes Fight Against Punch Boards And Gaming Machines

The fight Police Chief James L. Beavers waged against the "punch board" and other games of chance during the holidays was renewed Wednesday when the chief issued special orders to members of the force to be diligent in locating such gaming instruments and arresting those in whose places they are permitted to be operated.

"Information has come to my office repeatedly that these games are being operated openly in various drug stores, drink and lunch stands," Chief Beavers said.

"They are a violation of the city and state laws," he added, "and the police department will not allow them to exist."

EXHIBIT OF DIXIE PRODUCTS PLANNED

Products Display Will Be Presented at Credit Men's Association Wednesday.

Plans for staging a remarkable exhibit of southeastern products and industries were unfolded Wednesday at the weekly luncheon of the convention committee of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men by C. R. Howard, chairman of the exhibit committee and general sales manager of the American Cotton Growers' exchange.

The exhibit, which will be a feature of the 1923 convention of the National Association of Credit Men in June, will be held at the Baptist tabernacle and will be composed of the following:

A display of cotton growing from the planting of the seed to the matured plant. Mr. Howard announced that J. G. Hastings, past president of the Southeastern Fair association, had already planted cotton seed in his hot houses for the purpose. Not only will each stage of the growth of the plant be shown, but samples of Egyptian, Peruvian, Indian and other cottons, obtained through the textile division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, will be exhibited.

An old-fashioned spinning wheel and loom and a mill-spinning frame of modern make will operate side by side, spinning yarn and weaving the finished cloth. A cotton gin will also be in operation during the convention and there will be an exhibition of cotton seed and its various products. Boll weevils and methods for their destruction will be on display.

A sugar mill will be in operation, extracting juice from the cane, and refining into the pure syrup which will be served to delegates.

Turpentine and pine products will form part of the exhibit, and there will be displays of Georgia peanuts, pecans, apples, peaches and other products.

Several committee reports were heard, all reporting progress toward a successful entertainment of the crowd expected at the convention of national credit men.

POPULAR GRADY INTERNES TAKE AUTO TRIP HOME

Dr. L. M. Sanders and Dr. Cecil Brannon, two popular internes at Grady hospital, are now at their homes in Alabama on their way to spend the Easter holidays.

Dr. Sanders, who lives in Troy, Ala., decided to make the trip by automobile and persuaded Dr. Brannon to accompany him as far as Brantley, Ala., where the latter is a doctor. Doctors and nurses had expected to hear from them about the trip before this time but have not learned whether the trip was an uneventful one, or enlivened by an accident.

During the Christmas holidays Drs. Brannon and Sanders spent several days in their home towns and reported they heard Station WGM so plainly that they could almost believe themselves back in Atlanta.

PENDERGRASS HITS DRUGGIST LICENSE LAWS OF GEORGIA

"Lax druggist license laws in Georgia have caused applicants for pharmacy licenses to flock to the state from all over the country, with the result that Georgia ranks next to the last in the whole country in educational standards for prospective pharmacists," J. B. Pendergrass declared in a talk before the members of the Atlanta Exchange club at the weekly luncheon of the organization Tuesday.

Mr. Pendergrass declared that for every 1,000 persons in Atlanta there was a drug store. In 1921 488 applicants took the examination given by the state board in Georgia. During the same year North Carolina had only 10; Tennessee, 63; South Carolina, 42; and Alabama, 70.

Three Persons Hurt In Buggy-Motorcycle Collision Wednesday

Three persons were injured early Wednesday night when a motorcycle operated by J. G. Turner, 49, of 2 Robinson street, struck a buggy occupied by Mr. and Mrs. D. Andrews, of 61 Hill street, on East Hunter street, between Terry and Martin streets. According to witnesses, Turner attempted to pass the buggy on the left side, but the lights from a street car blinded him, and the wheel of a side-car attached to his motorcycle struck the buggy.

The occupants of the buggy were severely shaken up, but suffered no serious injuries. Turner was carried to Grady hospital in an unconscious condition, and told doctors there, that he was unable to remember how the accident occurred.

Chicken Thief Outruns Shots From Automatic

Dusky Robber Exceeds the Speed Limit in Dash in East Point.

East Point, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—R. E. Harden, well known business man of East Point, made his acquaintance in a way with a chicken thief Tuesday night. Mr. Harden has several birds which he prices very highly. Tuesday night he was awakened by a noise near where the chickens roost. At first he thought it was only something passing and did not get up until he heard the noise the second time.

As the noise grew louder, he marched out the back door with an automatic in one hand and a flashlight in the other. Just after making his landing in his back yard, he flashed his light in the direction of where his chickens were supposed to be snoozing.

To his surprise, his flashlight caught two big eyes surrounded by a darkness. Not a word was spoken. For a moment the yard was quiet, and in a dash the negro stole his get-away. "Bang, bang," howled the automatic, but the negro sped on, attempting to outrun the bullets.

After releasing the chickens from the sack, Mr. Harden retired for the night.

HARDING REGRETS DAUGHERTY STORY

President Believes Statement as to Candidacy in 1924 Might Better Have Been Delayed.

St. Augustine, March 28.—The political atmosphere which has so tightly surrounded President Harding and the administration officials composing his vacation party today seemed to savor a little closer.

One of the contributing factors to this concentration was the development that the president, after turning over in his mind the statement recently made in Miami by Attorney-General Daugherty, his pre-convention manager in 1920, and since then his chief political adviser, had come to the conclusion that it might have been better had the statement been withheld at least for the present. In his statement Mr. Daugherty, while emphasizing that it was too long until the 1924 campaign to begin talks of politics, predicted that Mr. Harding would be a candidate for re-nomination.

The other factor was the arrival here of Mr. Daugherty. Until today the president and his principal adviser in matters of politics had not met since the latter had issued his statement. Mr. Daugherty came to St. Augustine in accordance with previously announced plans and is en route back to Washington after a visit to Florida to recuperate from his recent illness. The president and Mr. Daugherty were together only a few minutes today. Mr. Harding stopping at the attorney-general's suite on his way to lunch.

The president, in his study of the situation, is understood by some of those close to him to have singly in his mind the two remaining years of his administration and to feel that proper solution of the problems they will present should be subject of more thought than what is to happen to him personally in 1924.

The chief executive, it was learned, is highly appreciative of the motives that actuated Mr. Daugherty in making his statement and has the greatest confidence in the attorney-general's judgment. He, however, as his feelings have been interpreted by some of his friends, wants to avoid everything that would tinge his actions during the coming months with politics.

Mr. Daugherty has made it plain since giving out his statement that it was not inspired by the president and has been most anxious to relieve the executive of any embarrassment that might have been occasioned. Several of the republican leaders who are now in Florida have acclaimed the Daugherty statement one of them, former Representative Campbell, of Kansas, declaring that the attorney-general only expressed the thought deep set in the minds of party leaders everywhere in saying that the Republican party could not do ought but renominate Mr. Harding, if he would consent to make the race.

SEEK AGED WOMAN WHO ACCOMPANIED BABY'S DESERTERS

Athens, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) A third person has been involved in the case of the desertion of an infant girl at the Georgia hotel here Sunday night by a girl, supposed to be her mother, who later boarded a train headed toward Atlanta accompanied by a man.

WOUNDED CONVICT TO ARRIVE TODAY

linson, manager of the Yellow Cab company, and the passengers merely indicated which road to take when they came to a crossing or fork of the road.

While in the vicinity of Tucker, Ga., Nichols stated, he became suspicious of the two men. They pulled down the curtains of the cab, keeping them down for some time, and when they again let them up, they had changed clothes, and were dressed in overalls.

Before going very far on the trip, Nichols stated that he asked for some assurance from the men that they would pay the bill, it being the custom to do so in cases of long trips. One of the men gave him a $50 bill.

About 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, according to Mr. Dickinson, the passengers called a halt near a small building, and the man in overalls asked for a settlement. He received their change from the $50 bill.

Here Nichols turned back, reaching Atlanta early in the afternoon. Immediately upon his arrival, he told his experience to Mr. Dickinson and the matter was reported to the United States deputy marshal, who sent information to authorities in the vicinity of Athens.

The prisoners were next heard of when a conductor on a freight train of the Seaboard Air Line informed W. P. Butler, town marshal of Colbert, Ga., that he had forced two men to leave his train a short distance away, and that he believed them to be the fugitives from Atlanta.

Marshal Butler went after the men. As he approached, demanding surrender, the desperadoes opened fire, which the officer returned. He was joined by others, and the gun fight moved from the railroad tracks to a nearby woods.

Another posse, headed by Sheriff W. H. Hall, of Madison county, was organized, and advanced on the prisoners. Fighting desperately, Chapman fell with three wounds, as the lines of the posse tightened around his place of refuge.

Grey's gun jammed, and he surrendered after Chapman was disabled. Both men were taken to Athens, Chapman was treated at St. Mary's, and Grey was held in jail until Deputy Warden William J. Fletcher, of the Atlanta prison, arrived to return the prisoners to Atlanta.

Chapman is the man who engineered the $1,000,000 railroad street bank robbery in New York in 1921. He was serving a 25-year term for this. Grey was serving a five-year term for forging money orders.

About 4 o'clock Tuesday morning they overpowered a nurse at the federal penitentiary, bound and gagged him, while they escaped their way to liberty, climbing down from the hospital of the prison by means of sheets converted into improvised ladders.

Scaling the prison walls, the two desperadoes made their way to the home of W. H. Edwards, where they tried to make arrangements to be hidden away. Failing in this attempt, they forced Mr. Edwards to accompany them at the point of a pistol until they could board a street car and get out of prison vicinity.

While on the car, the two escaped prisoners engaged Nichols to meet them with a taxi at Georgia and Capitol avenue. Here they boarded the cab, saying they wanted to make a trip of two or probably three hours' length.

From here they were driven toward the center of town, traveling over Pryor to Hunter street, thence to Whitehall out Peachtree to Ponce de Leon avenue, thence to Decatur.

While traveling over this route, the two convicts were going through territory filled with officers who had been warned of their escape. One of the men, according to the driver, seemed to be intoxicated, but later his actions led the taxi employee to believe that he was not drunk, only feigning.

PROBE OF SUGAR BY TARIFF BODY

tion," said the commerce secretary, "respond very quickly to price. It would be normal to anticipate that estimated consumption would decrease as the result of the present over high price."

Mr. Hoover also forecast "that the present price levels will no doubt stimulate production especially in Cuba, as at this moment plantation profits are very large."

Comments on the sugar situation during the day from Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, who saw the light in the senate against the administration tariff bill; Basil A. Bailey, director of the people's legislative service, who a week ago urged the president to order a department of justice investigation of alleged price manipulation, and the senators' National council. Senator Simmons said in a statement that present high prices were due to the preferential duty on Cuban sugar. Declaring that President Harding's introduction to the tariff commission suggests that "the must have considered the tariff as at least a possible cause of the present high prices," Senator Simmons made this assertion:

"The preference shown in our tariff to Cuban sugar makes our market dependent upon the islands for its principal supply. Our domestic raw beet and cane sugar is now wholly in the hands of our refiners. These refiners also notoriously control the Cuban sugar and speculators who want to corner the market."

Mr. Bailey said he had told the president in a telegram that his orders to the tariff commission were to be commended, "provided the department of justice takes prompt action to stop speculation and punish the conspirators and profiteers who rig the market."

A statement from the Farmers' National council recommended that "government control of the sugar crop from the Hawaiian Islands, as would be possible under the Norris-Sinclair marketing bill, creating a government corporation, is essential to protect producers and consumers."

SUICIDE THEORY IN COSTLEY CASE

when Blanton shot him and threw him out of the machine onto the side of the road. The defense showed by John Johnston, superintendent at Grady and Miss Wainwright, the nurse who attended Costley for four days prior to his death, that he was not rational at times and seemed to have had an apprehension that someone was trying to shoot him. While suffering from hallucinations, Miss Wainwright said that Costley never mentioned Blanton's name.

Costley's revolver, which was found in a few inches Costley had, was identified by E. J. Costley, brother of the deceased. In his dying statement Costley had said that Blanton took the gun from him and then shot him.

Claims Bad Check. Costley attributed the shooting to a difficulty between himself and Blanton over a worthless check he had given the taxi man for payment for transportation, according to his hospital statement.

Mrs. Costley, widow of the merchant, dressed in black and heavily veiled, occupied the witness chair for a brief moment. She told of Blanton having called to see Costley at his home on the Saturday before the shooting with reference to a check. Costley was not at home at the time, she said.

Willard Hughes, superintendent of a fertilizer plant near the federal prison, testified that Costley had tried to borrow about $800 from him two days before the shooting.

Carl Heard, assistant tax collector at Atlanta, testified that Costley had tried to obtain a loan of $500 from him on the same day. J. R. Bachman, secretary of the Atlanta Milling company, and R. A. Dempsey, of the Chattahoochee Brick company, offered similar testimony.

Solicitor John A. Boykin is conducting the prosecution. Testimony begun Thursday. Arguments will follow and the case is expected to be in the hands of the jury before 2 o'clock.

prosecutor, for it is his theory that the girl was slain by blackmailers who failed to make her co-operate in a plot to "shake down" Mitchell.

After his visitor had departed, Mr. Peora made the following comment: "The information given me by Mr. Daugherty does not tend to shed light on the solution of the murder mystery, but it is of interest to me as an index of the character of the person who made the blackmail threat. I think Mr. Daugherty spoke to me frankly and I regard him as trustworthy as I have regarded Mr. Mitchell."

Acquaintance Social. Mr. Peora said that Daugherty would be on call as a witness whenever he was wanted, and indicated that he might himself interview the man named by the major. He did not state, however, when or where such an interview would take place, or whether he expected to receive an official call from Mitchell's father-in-law, R. T. Stotesbury, of J. P. Morgan and company.

Daugherty, he said, told him he was not acquainted with Mitchell; John H. Jackson, a New York attorney, who posed as his secretary, or Albert E. Guimaraes, a close friend of Miss Keenan.

In sketching his acquaintance with the model, Daugherty told the prosecutor that he was not met during the world series of 1921. Their acquaintance, he said, was purely social. He added that he had called at her apartment with a party of friends, but he never saw her alone, although once he gave her a check when she said she was hard pressed for funds.

Last Sight of Girl. The last time he saw her, he said, was in a restaurant last December. He was with a party of friends and waved his hand to her at another table. Daugherty maintains he never had written the girl any letters, and that he was not intimidated by the blackmail threat. He added that he expected knowledge of his acquaintance with the model would be made public after he had received the telephone call.

Another development today was the positive announcement by Mr. Peora that among the contacts of the girl's safety deposit box opened last week were a number of letters.

Guardians of the vault, he said, would not permit taking of an inventory because this was not called for in the order issued the girl's mother by Saragote O'Brien, but detectives had seen letters in the box. Mr. Peora said he had suggested to the police that they take legal steps to gain possession of these papers.

which time the papers were taken away. Dr. Pace, of Smyrna, who was vice president of the bank at which Mrs. Dennis kept her account for a period during 1913-14, was a witness in this case. Dr. Pace testified that he first saw Innes near the Neims home in Smyrna, a short time before the papers were stolen.

With the introduction of this testimony, attorneys R. E. Church and Louis Foster, for the defense, emphatically objected, and moved to exclude the testimony as irrelevant. In the heated controversy, attorneys for the prosecution intimated that this was a first step in introducing testimony designed to show permissible deductions, and to produce the original letters which it is alleged Innes wrote Mrs. Dennis persuading her to intrust to him the funds of the prosecution, which he had fraudulently.

When the court adjourned the prosecution was introducing evidence in support of its contention that Innes spent time in Atlanta under an assumed name, and that while doing so further built up the deception alleged to have been practiced on Mrs. Dennis.

FIVE MEN LOOM AS PRESIDENT HOPES

to get a considerable vote in wet delegations—among the so-called professional politicians. Undecided, upon his return from Europe, doubtless will formally throw his hat into the ring.

Cox Poor Chance. As for Cox, it is difficult to size up his chances in other than a dismal light. Much of the strength he received in the 1920 convention will melt out behind Smith next year; the league of nations, if an issue, will be sponsored by other democratic candidates and, above all, Cox will start with the disadvantage of having been licked in 1920 and in the knowledge that some of the party's shrewdest leaders, among them his own friends, believe that he should not permit himself to become a repeating candidate.

Coming to Smith, there is one point of opposition raised against him at once—that he is a Catholic. Besides, he frankly favors modification of the Volstead law to permit the sale of light wines and beer. Throughout the convention, on the liquor issue alone, he would be opposed by some of the most powerful forces in the party. His nomination, of course, would bring the direct issue of the prohibition law essentially before all the people for the first time.

McAdoo's Strength. One thing about McAdoo's candidacy; he will have to announce it in advance this time or considerable sections of the party that might be regarded as friendly normally will be "off" of him. McAdoo's strength rests in the fact that he is the best-advised potential candidate of any of them and probably appeals more than the others to the imagination of the average voter. He is bone-dry, for American participation in international organizations to preserve world peace and may take a positive stand on railway and mine control.

The curious thing about McAdoo is that he is, at the present writing, the buffer standing between the so-called dry-in-the-wool Woodrow Wilson and candidates "outside the fold." In other words, there is a large, silent group of democrats, known as Wilson men, who thus far have boarded no band wagon. They are for McAdoo, and are opposed to any of the other candidates mentioned but he would be their first choice only if and after Wilson himself does not pick a man whom he believes the democrats should support.

REPORTER QUIZZED AT HERRIN TRIAL

Graced by a man he identified as Bert Vance, a defendant.

Cross Examined

Ewing testified that he was acting as a staff correspondent of the Associated Press and had gone on to Herrin and dictated his story over the long distance telephone to St. Louis. In answer to questions he described the Associated Press as a co-operative association, composed of more than 1,400 newspapers in all parts of the country.

Rufus Neely, of defense counsel, on cross-examination, read a story carried in the New York Times, of Friday, June 25, which was distributed by the Associated Press, after reading a section telling of the shooting down of the six men, he asked:

"Did you put into your story that you saw a young woman there?" "No, sir, I did not put that into the story," the witness answered.

"Did you put into your story that you saw a young woman there?" "Yes, sir."

"Did you say that this young woman said, 'I'll see you in hell before you get any water?'" "Substantially that."

"Did you write that these men had been decaying in an automobile and gravel imbedded in their flesh?" "Yes, but what I thought was gravel, I afterwards found was spots caused by birdshot."

"Is it true that reputable newspapers are not allowed to change or tamble news matter supplied by the Associated Press?" "The Associated Press has eight or ten instances of newspapers doing that every week."

"Is it not true that the Associated Press does not present rumors as facts?" "We are not allowed to carry rumors, but we can give stories without revealing the source."

Can Change Stories. "Now, is it not true that members of the Associated Press are not allowed to change material received from the Associated Press?" "It is not true."

Mr. Neely then read an extract from a copy of "The Herrin Conspiracy," a pamphlet issued by the National Coal association, but the witness denied that he was responsible for any of the statements contained in it.

Ewing then was closely questioned regarding his movements and the time of his arrival. He said his train reached Mariou at 8:52 a. m., the morning of the tragedy, which is according to the railway schedule, and that he arrived at the scene of the tragedy about 9:30 o'clock. Witnesses at the first trial testified that this was the time the bodies were removed.

"Did you meet Jack Hendrix, staff man of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in a Herrin hotel that same afternoon?" he was asked, and replied in the affirmative.

"Did you tell Jack Hendrix that your train was forty minutes late and you tried ten jitney drivers before you got one to drive you from Mariou to Herrin?"

The witness answered in the negative. direct examination, he had said that the first driver he had met a block from the depot had taken him to the scene of the tragedy.

"Did you not testify at the first trial that you had tried five or six drivers before you got one?" "No."

"You are no longer with The Associated Press?" "No."

He added that he was now with The Chicago Tribune.

"Now, isn't it true that you left because of the stories regarding Herrin you had written?"

"No, I received a vacation and a raise in pay when I got back to Chicago, from Herrin."

"Oh, you received a vacation and a raise for your stories, then?" "Well, not exactly. I got them for general good work."

"They didn't give you a medal too, did they?" "No, sir."

The session ended with the witness still on the stand, the defense announcing that it wished to continue the cross-examination tomorrow.

MRS. SEYMOUR SAYS SHE WAS SLOWLY STARVING

Stomach Trouble Had Reduced Her to Only Eighty-five Pounds. Gives Tanlac Full Credit for Remarkable Recovery—Now Weighs 140.

It is not what the manufacturers claim for it, but the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have been benefited by it that accounts for Tanlac being known as "The world's greatest tonic medicine." Those who once try it invariably buy it over and over again and tell of the splendid results they have derived from its use.

Mrs. D. G. Seymour, 100 Plum St., Atlanta, relates her remarkable experience with the noted preparation as follows:

"I attribute the return of my health and strength entirely to the Tanlac treatment. I had become so thin and frail from ten years' suffering with stomach trouble that on several occasions my husband came home and found me in a state of collapse."

"I could eat nothing but soft foods, such as eggs and milk, and suffered with smothering spells, stomach pains, poor circulation and cold hands and feet. Everything was tried on me, including stomach pumps, but continued to get worse."

"I would go two and three days at a time with indigestion so bad it was a struggle for me to breathe. I was slowly starving to death, from being unable to eat. Finally, on the advice of friends, I bought some Tanlac and when I began taking it I only weighed eighty-five pounds."

"After the first bottle I began to eat regularly of more solid food and I then commenced to mend rapidly. I used seven bottles in about two months and a half and at the end of this time had gained twenty-five pounds. Not only did the Tanlac treatment rid me of stomach trouble, but it enriched my blood and built me up until I no longer suffer from cold hands and feet. I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds; a great difference from what I weighed when I began taking Tanlac, isn't it?"

"Getting Ahead" with Miller 7% Bonds

HOW to make investments count as a means of accumulating money is a problem which people everywhere, confronted with the increasing cost of living, are trying to solve. A good rate of interest is necessary if there is to be a surplus above necessary expenses, and at the same time the investor cannot afford to run the risk of loss.

Miller First Mortgage Bonds make thrift both possible and attractive. Many of these bonds are secured by income-earning structures in Southern cities, where the prevailing rate of interest is 7%, and these Southern bonds are protected by the same effective safeguards which surround our issues in the North and Middle West. If you are interested in the possibility of "getting ahead" financially through sound investing, mail the coupon to-day for our booklet, "Creating Good Investments," which will be sent without cost or obligation.

METHODIST UNITY IS BELIEVED NEAR

Northern and Southern Divisions of Methodist Episcopal Church to Bridge Ancient Gap.

St. Louis, Mo., March 28.—The northern and southern divisions of the Methodist Episcopal church finally have reached a general agreement on unification after a separation of seventy-eight years, it was stated tonight by members of the subcommittee of the joint commission on unification of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

The subcommittee did not make public its conclusions, but it was asserted that all disputed questions in the unification plan were disposed of and amicable adjustment was made of all the main points at issue.

The reported agreement on plans for the merger represents many years of investigations and conferences, it was said. It was added that the agreement, if ratified by the joint commission and the respective general conferences, would bridge completely the division, which began in 1845.

The subcommittee ended a two days' conference here tonight.

MARKETING AGENCY SOUGHT BY DAIRYMEN

National Sales Agency to Stabilize Fluctuating Prices to Be Planned.

Chicago, March 28.—A direct step toward stabilizing fluctuating dairy markets will be taken here April 9, when dairymen from all over the country will meet to organize a national sales agency for dairy products, according to an official announcement by the American farm bureau federation here Wednesday.

At a meeting of co-operative dairymen in St. Paul, Minn., on March 3, a committee of nine men selected to represent the dairymen, adopted a resolution calling for the establishment of a sales agency not later than September 1, 1923.

Farm bureau officials Wednesday said this sales agency would be a big boon to the house wife and gave these as reasons:

First, when the milk man rattles by in the wee hours of the morning, the house wife will know just how much that pint of milk left on the doorstep will cost her. The price will not have been raised overnight.

Second, she can carry home her pound of butter knowing that she has paid a standard price for the best on the market.

Third, dairy products will never be "scarce."

In standardizing dairy products it was pointed out, a superior brand would be placed upon the market for consumption, and the prices too would be more in conformity with those charged elsewhere.

To prevent a "scarcity," which always boosts prices, dairymen say, the new sales agency would make it possible to borrow from one dairyman to aid another so that the public would not suffer, it was explained.

Teach Sacredness Of Law in Schools Urges C. L. Moran

Milledgeville, Ga., March 28.—The child should be taught in the public schools that the law of his country is a sacred thing and must not be outraged, C. L. Moran, of this city, states in his answer to the questionnaire of Dr. M. M. Parks, state school superintendent, asking his views of the educational problem.

Mr. Moran believes that character building is the greatest need of the day and that, in their eagerness to master the higher branches, moral education is being overlooked by both parents and teachers.

Mr. Moran's answer follows: "In my opinion, character building is the greatest need today. Moral education is being neglected by both parents and teachers. In our eagerness to master the higher branches, this all important lesson is being overlooked."

"The child should be taught, and have the idea indelibly impressed on his mind, that the law of his country is a sacred thing and must not be outraged, and that the moral obligations and moral duties can not be thrust aside with impunity."

"To my mind the indifference along this line on the part of those in charge of our educational system is largely responsible for outrages almost daily committed by mobs throughout the state."

ATLANTA TO GIVE NATIONAL CHAMBER $3,400 BY JANUARY 1

Directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting today at noon, promised J. M. Powell, representative of the National Chamber of Commerce, to raise $3,400 before January 1, to complete the amount promised by the local chamber towards erecting a United States chamber building in Washington which will cost $2,500,000. The local chamber was assessed $5,500 during 1921. Since that time $3,500 has been raised. It is the intention of the chamber, officials stated, to not only secure the quota assessed by the national organization, but to raise at least $10,000.

It was decided also at this meeting to present the Woman's club of Fort Valley, Ga., with the $50 cash prize won by the chamber of commerce float in the recent Peach Festival. The money was presented on the condition that it be used to further developments on the peach industry in Georgia.

This booth is in charge of an experienced demonstrator and is owned by the Muse-Wallace company, distributors for the Cole Manufacturing company, manufacturers of Omega flour.

The Cole Manufacturing company, of Chester, Ill., millers of the well-known Omega and White Ring flours, knowing that in order to reach the hearts of the trade in this section they must convince the people of the superior merits of their flours for biscuits and pastries, are taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the Pure Food show, now going on in the auditorium and are serving the finest biscuits, piping hot and inviting to every visitor to test them and prove to their own satisfaction the company's claim to having the best biscuit and pastry flour on the market.

The Cole Milling company is one of the oldest in the United States, having been established in 1839 and operated continuously in the same family since that time. Their products are known from coast to coast, but better known in the south than in other sections for the reason that they select a certain high-grade of soft winter wheat for milling which is best adapted to the making of breads in the manner of our people.

GIRL PREFERS DEATH TO REFORM SCHOOL

Attempts to Plunge Hatpin Into Breast Following Sentence.

Anniston, Ala., March 28.—(Special.)—Declaring that she would die rather than go to a reform school, Nellie Knight, pretty 13-year-old girl of Jacksonville, made an effort to plunge a six-inch hat pin into her breast Tuesday at the county courthouse here just after she had been sentenced to a juvenile delinquent and sentenced to the East Lake reformatory by Judge Thomas W. Coleman.

The girl had been removed from the court room to the office of Sheriff W. P. Knight, when she snatched a pin from her hat and made the threat to end her life. W. A. Venable, chief of police of Jacksonville, who had brought the girl to Anniston for the hearing, seized the girl's hand and wrested the pin from her grasp. The girl wept bitterly when given the sentence and it is believed that she was intended to make good her threat and was prevented from at least doing herself serious injury only by the quick action of Chief Venable.

Increased demand for the product which was 50 per cent larger during last month than the present capacity of the plant, has resulted in plans for the erection of another large dry kiln by the Anniston Refractories company, located at Oxford and putting out fire brick, silica and prepared fire clay.

The local concern also has under construction a six-kiln fire brick plant in Pell City, the president and general manager, H. S. Teal, having recently purchased a large acreage of fire clay near the St. Clair county town.

A large hawk, measuring four feet from tip to tip, was brought to Anniston alive Tuesday by J. A. Smith, who lives near Blue Mountain and placed on exhibition at the White Drug company store. This was the first bird brought in since the campaign was started against hawks by the Anniston Gun club. Mr. Smith shot the hawk, wounding it sufficiently for it to be captured. He received a bounty of one dollar as promised by the local gun club members.

Harry Gallion, the legless Chattanooga man who has been held here since last Friday charged with shooting Tom Talley, was allowed home Tuesday in the sum of $500, following a statement by Talley's physician that the wounded man is now considered out of danger. Talley was shot in the stomach last Friday afternoon after he had jumped upon the running board of Gallion's car, according to a report of the affair.

The two men had previously had a difficulty, it was said, and had feeling still existed. Talley was at first believed to be fatally wounded.

LEGISLATOR SAYS TAX PROBLEM PARAMOUNT

Stevens Would Favor Additional Gasoline Tax for Schools.

Crawford, Ga., March 28.—The tax problem is the paramount one to be faced by the Georgia legislators at the June sessions, C. O. Stevens, planter and member of the legislature from this county, believes.

However, Mr. Stevens says that "if our present law was strictly enforced, I believe we would get revenue enough, but there seems to be a great deal of invisible property that we are unable to reach. Hence, something has to be done to reach it. It is my purpose to offer some amendment, probably a graduated income tax."

Georgia's educational institutions failed to receive the appropriations needed last year, Mr. Stevens declares, stating that the appropriations were "meager and inadequate to maintain our institutions to a standard commensurate with the standing of our great state. It is embarrassing and humiliating. It does not denote development and progress."

Schools Come First.
If a two-cent a gallon additional gasoline tax were applied to educational purposes, Mr. Stevens declares he would favor it. "Our educational institutions should be kept up first and foremost of all other things. Our assets as a state are in the development of the minds and morals of the rising generation," Mr. Stevens says. "It is the only way to progress, peace and prosperity."

There will be an effort to abolish the existing tax equalization law, Mr. Stevens believes, but he does not think much will be accomplished. "It should not be abolished," he says, "until we first work out a plan that is a better one than we have."

"It would be a calamity," he declares, "to abolish our present law and not have something to substitute for it and have to revert to the old law of simply allowing the property owners to give in what they please at any old price they please. There are certain classes of property exempt. Bonds and securities should be taxed."

Capital removal should be buried forever, Mr. Stevens says, and he does not think any concerted effort will be made against the state highway department. "We have high class men at the head of this department and I have utmost confidence in them," he asserts.

Americus, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—John T. Kitchens, who was injured in an automobile accident here Saturday night, died yesterday and was buried today at Salem church near Americus. Kitchens was injured while riding in a car driven by Fess Hyatt, a negro, which collided with a larger car driven by Cleveland Pattillo, also a negro, and in which Pattillo's wife and child were riding. Two other white men and the negro in the car with Kitchens were not hurt, though he sustained fatal injuries.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN LIQUOR BATTLE

Three Men and One Woman Die When Posse Seeks to Arrest Alleged Moonshiners.

Harlan, Ky., March 23.—Three men and one woman were killed in a battle between members of a federal posse and alleged moonshiners near Asher, Leslie county, Ky., early this morning.

The dead are: Ike Strong, Mrs. Della Strong, his wife, George Strong and Kelley Walker, the latter being a member of the posse.

The raiding squad had a warrant for Ike Strong, who was charged with illicit distilling of whiskey and who, with his brother, George Strong, were considered desperate men. The Strong house was surrounded by the posse and Walker went forward to demand the surrender of the men. George Strong is said to have fired upon Walker, shooting him through the breast and head, death resulting instantly. The posse then opened a general fire on the house and after two and one-half minutes there was no return fire and investigation showed five minutes killed, or dying, George Strong surviving an hour.

The posse found a still, a few paces back of the house and two barrels 300 yards distant, heavily barricaded with brush and earth in the eastworks.

Rheumatic Agony

NOW EASILY ENDED

Says Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y.

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenbury, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenbury made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenbury and speedily relieved themselves of this agonizing disease.

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription which it took me 14 years to perfect—a prescription that I made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenbury is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

Through the columns of this newspaper, I authorize every druggist to guarantee one full pint bottle in every instance.—(adv.)

England Worried As Wales Copies Humpty Dumpty

Frequent Spills of Heir to Throne While Steeplechasing Causing Comment.

BY RALPH H. TURNER.

United News Staff Correspondent.

London, March 23.—Great alarm has spread over England because the prince of Wales persists in emulating Humpty Dumpty.

His smiling highness, who has been falling from his mounts with frequency in many of the races he has entered, bit the dust again Wednesday.

Fears for the life and limbs of the prince have now reached the stage of open disapproval and criticism of his recklessness and the question has been raised whether the heir to the throne is justified in running such great risks.

The prince has fallen from horses eight times in the past four years.

Londoners smile. Londoners Wednesday smiled a bit and nodded significantly at this statement:

"It ought to be stated quite frankly that the continued mishaps of the Prince of Wales are causing a good deal of comment in clubs and society which does not appear in the newspapers but which, nevertheless, is widespread."

The Standard suggests that the prince's advisers persuade him to confine himself to hunting and leave the jumps to persons less highly placed.

Some, who have less to fear from offenses of Les Majestés, suggest that the prince may take such a fall one of these days that:

"All the king's horses and all the king's men, Can't put Humpty Dumpty together again."

Despite the prince's spill Tuesday in the army point-to-point race, he participated Wednesday in two steeplechases in the Melton Hunt meeting.

In the second race, while riding Little Christy, Wales fell but arose and carried on. After six unsuccessful attempts to negotiate the seventh jump, he abandoned the race.

In an earlier race, in which he rode Kinlark in an open steeplechase, the prince finished fourth among nine.

He was almost unseated after the last jump.

The prince in the recent races has been competing with several famous professional jockeys. He is a keen and a most nervous sportsman but no one ever accused His Highness of being a Tod Sloan.

He is known as a prince of good fellows—none who never gets peeved at a horse just because it throws him.

For instance, Tuesday when Wales was riding the Earl of Carven's cup in a race which included a water jump his Mount Ocean III, brushed His Highness right out of the saddle.

Poor old Ocean almost sank in the mud but the prince plunged in and rescued the animal.

DIVORCES SOUGHT BY MACON SISTERS FILED SAME DAY

Macon, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) Mrs. Nellie Hagwood Adams and Mrs. Vera Hagwood Fallin, believed to be sisters, filed suits for divorce from their husbands, G. R. Adams, of Georgia, N. C., and G. A. Fallin, of Georgia, Ala. Both alleged in their petitions that their husbands were often intoxicated and in each case threats of death are alleged to have been made.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams were married May 7, 1918 and lived together almost two years. Mrs. Adams asks for the custody of her two-year-old daughter.

The Fallins were married September 16, 1918 and lived together until March 12, 1929.

This is said to be the first time in the history of Bibb county that sisters have filed suit for divorce on the same day.

Victim of Aphasia Wakes to Discover Himself Married

Baltimore, Md., March 23.—Suffering from lapse of memory caused by a stroke received in an airplane accident at Pensacola flying field, Florida, in the spring of 1918, Edward Yake, former army aviator, awoke from his state of oblivion a year ago to find himself the husband of a woman he "never knew nor saw."

That is what he told Equity Examiner A. De Russey Sappington, taking testimony yesterday in the former flyer's plea for annulment of his marriage to Rose Harris a year after his accident.

Upon his recovery last year, Yake told the examiner he "was introduced to a stunning girl. Your wife—that is just what I was told. I had never known the woman; and I did not want to be married—indeed, I never had any such intention."

But, the complaining flyer declared, certificates were produced to prove authentically that he had been united in marriage with Rose Harris, on April 6, 1919, just a year after his accident. He was prevailed upon to live with the woman "bride" years, he said, but "it was not to my liking."

WOMAN IS ARRESTED WHEN MAN IS SHOT

Fort Worth, Tex., March 23.—C. E. Myers, 34, of Frederick, Okla., was shot three times this morning as he was entering a building on Taylor street where he was employed. A young woman was taken into custody by police. She had been seated for some time in a closed automobile in front of the building and then was seen to walk up and down the block, revolver in hand. Myers, whose wounds are believed fatal, says he never saw the woman before. She has been working here for the last few months, coming from Amarillo. He has a family in Frederick.

The woman, when taken to the district attorney's office and an assault to murder complaint filed, gave the name of Mrs. Goldie White. Beyond saying she got the right man, Mrs. White would not talk. She is 33 years of age.

Myers, for whose recovery physicians give no hope, said at the hospital that he has two children living with relatives at Medford, Okla.

SHIP OPERATORS URGE SALE OF U. S. TONNAGE

Would Scrap Unserviceable Ships, Sell Balance to American Operators.

Washington, March 23.—The United States Ship Operators' association, second of the organizations representing interests identified with the American merchant marine to respond to the shipping board request for co-operation in formulating a policy, recommended today that the board scrap all unserviceable tonnage, sell its good tonnage to American operators, and strictly withhold any tonnage from aliens.

The association submitted its views in a letter from its president, Charles H. Potter. A committee headed by C. D. Mallory, of C. D. Mallory & Co., conferred today with the policy committee of the shipping board in order to present the opinion in more detail.

The ship operators' recommendations followed closely those submitted Monday by the American Steamship Owners' association. The operators were positive that no buyers could be found for government tonnage in the present situation of the market and suggested that while awaiting a more responsive market the board carefully survey and classify its fleet with the object of speeding out and scrapping every vessel unsuited for economical operation.

No possibility was seen by the association of raising capital at this time for financing private purchases of ships and routes although "every ship operator hopes to become an owner."

"We must, however, face the economic fact," the association's views continued, "that capital will not invest in ship securities until the profits are equal to and as reasonably sure as those in other lines of business."

"Therefore it is not what we wish to do, but the impossibility of raising capital that now controls us. For it is the plain truth that under present world shipping conditions and with our existing laws, American ship owners can operate only at a loss in foreign trades."

"In conclusion, we feel that pending legislation which will put American shipping on an equality with our foreign competitors and an economic readjustment of the world's commerce, it will be an impossibility to advantageously sell the shipping board's tonnage. It appears that the immediate question is one of operation, provided it is the board's opinion that it is to the best interests of the public that the trade routes established for the promotion, development, expansion and maintenance of foreign trade be continued and while the members of the United States Ship Operators' association are committed to no definite policy, our committee is prepared to discuss with you any plan which involves increased responsibility of operators and curtailment of the shipping board's overhead expense and supervision."

The committee included, besides Mr. Mallory, Captain W. H. Stratton, of Baltimore; Joseph P. Lykes, N. O. Pedrick and Winchester Noyes, of New York. A similar committee from the Steamship Builders' association is scheduled to appear tomorrow.

Texas Republicans To Fire All Klansmen In Government Jobs

Dallas, Texas, March 23.—Carrying out its "declared opposition to the Ku Klux Klan," the republican party of Texas, through its executive committee, has recommended the dismissal from federal service all government employees known to be klansmen.

"This action is a matter of policy," declared Mr. Creamer, who is a personal friend of President Harding. "It is not due to any personal animosity. The republican party in Texas believes that any federal employee having taken the oath of the Ku Klux Klan is unworthy to hold an office because of that oath."

"I will add, however, that if any employee who is a klansman quits that organization, we will not consider the same consideration that he would be entitled to had he never joined the Klan."

Mr. Creamer said this attitude of the republicans was adopted long ago and that the weeding out policy has been in effect some time.

"We are pushing this elimination aggressively, and we believe we can hold a federal job if we can help it," the announcement said.

PRINCE IS THROWN AT WATER JUMP

London, March 27.—The Prince of Wales was thrown today at a water jump in the army point-to-point race at Ascot, but was unhurt. Wales was riding Prince Henry, a horse and had taken the water jump in splendid style on the first round, but the second time the horse balked at the bank and plunged straight into the water, which is several feet deep. The prince was thrown into the boughs of a willow tree on the opposite bank, but scrambled back to rescue the horse which was plunging about in water up to its neck and rapidly sinking in the mud. The prince, unharmed, seized the horse's head and brought the animal out amid the cheers of hundreds of spectators.

HEIRESS TO GATES' MILLIONS MARRIES YOUNG CARTOONIST

Pasadena, Cal., March 28.—The wish of Miss Delora Angell, heiress to the $10,000,000 fortune of John W. Gates, for a quiet wedding was fulfilled at noon today when she was married to her childhood sweetheart, Lester Norris, cartoonist, of St. Charles, Ill.

The Altadena home of R. F. Angell, father of the bride, where the ceremony was performed, was closed to all except near relatives of Miss Angell and Mr. Norris and a few of their chums.

The Rev. Robert A. Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian church, read the marriage service. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Norris left on a motor trip through California.

Tuskegee Musicians

Arrive in Atlanta

For Three Concerts

The arrival of the Tuskegee Institute band, quintet and glee club in Atlanta today after a successful concert in Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday night, will offer a treat to lovers of old darky melodies, and harmonious orchestral presentations of famous excerpts from operas and marches of the last century, and to those who have seen "Shuffle Along."

In a review of the Montgomery concert, The Montgomery Advertiser said:

"The Tuskegee Institute band, quintet and glee club, famous for its interpretation of all that is best in music, both vocal and instrumental, delighted a large appreciative audience with a well balanced program at the Majestic theater last night. Each number, from the 'March Stars' to the closing selection, 'The Bohemian Girl,' was rendered with a precision that reflected credit not only upon the young students, but upon the conductor, Captain Frank L. Drye. Finished lines, the cadences and harmony gave instant evidence of a musical conception that comes naturally to only a few people, and that the students of the Tuskegee band have it was not doubted by those who heard the concert last night.

The Glee club rendered such numbers as 'Prelude Me, Lord,' 'Down by the Riverside,' and 'I Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray,' with that peculiar harmony which made a popular appeal to an audience. The quartette, which recently broadcasted a program from the Alabama Power company station, rendered several numbers to the satisfaction of all. 'Brown's Autograph,' Cadet Charles B. Jennings, cornetist and a violin solo, 'Scott's Fantasia,' by M. T. Williams, were pleasing features of the evening program.

EMORY R. O. T. C. BAND GIVES FINE CONCERT

The first of a series of weekly concerts was given Wednesday afternoon by the R. O. T. C. band of Emory university on the lawn of Wesley Memorial hospital.

The hospital staff students, and friends of the university formed a party on the campus to receive the band. Asa G. Candler and Walker White, superintendent of the hospital, were honor guests.

Later concerts will be given on Emory row and on the lawn of the residence of Mr. Candler in Druid Hills. The band which contains 45 pieces, and is considered one of the finest college bands in the south, is under the direction of Captain A. B. O'Neal.

Harold Vigorously Waves Au Revoir As Ganna Sails

Singer Goes to Europe for Tour, Leaving Millionaire Husband Behind.

New York, March 28.—Having lost one wife in the divorce courts of Chicago, Harold F. McCormick, the Chicago millionaire, misplaced his chi-one and spent a feverish fifteen minutes frisking a steamship for her just before the French liner, Paris, sailed away Wednesday, bearing Mme. Ganna Walska back to France.

"Oh! Ganna! Ganna!" the millionaire called excitedly, quarter-backing his way through a mass of passengers on the open decks of the Paris. "Harold! where are you, Harold?" cried the distressed beauty in the great squirrel coat, in a voice which had failed to please the musical punts of America during her recent concert tour. The bushel of orchids lowered to the fur coat by a jeweled fastening fluttered and trembled as Mme. Ganna Walska's agitation made itself vocal in repeated shrill cries for "Harold!"

Parter at Gangplank.

They were parted at the gangplank, the officers sending McCormick aboard by way of another plank because he was not a passenger but had merely come down to say farewell to his wife. When they reached the deck, each was caught in a swirl of people and with the previous minutes flitting in great haste, both became excited. McCormick trickled through the crowd to a luxurious stateroom which from the splendor of its appointments, he mistook for the de luxe suite, reserved for his wife. She meantime made her way to the actual suite de luxe and found it wadded with orchids her husband sent down in advance, but didn't find him.

The reporters who are so obnoxious to Mme. Ganna Walska seized the situation and made themselves a steering committee to lead McCormick to his love, in return for which favor, Mme. Ganna Walska promised to card a few notes concerning the American press which she holds in no high esteem.

"Pretty Clever."

"In Europe where the press does not pry into one's private life—fortunately," said Mme. Ganna Walska, "I am considered a singer. In America it is a front page story to say that Mme. Ganna Walska can not sing. It is not a front page story to say that I can sing. Therefore, in America they say I can not sing."

"Pretty clever, eh?" said the amiable McCormick, proudly. The reporters said they would report to the pop-eyed world that it was a pretty clever explanation. The farewell glimpse of Mme. Ganna Walska showed her behind the orchids at the ship's rail, waving and shrilling to Harold, who youthfully leaped the tonnage of a large crate and semaphored his fondest goodbyes with vigorous swines of his arms. Mme. Ganna Walska will sing in France and Poland. She will return for another concert tour next fall in which she will trill a coloratura rebuttal in her debate with the American musical authorities.

Over Two Hundred

Alleged Anarchists
Arrested in Raids

Sofia, March 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—More than 200 alleged anarchists have been arrested through the country in raids conducted by the police during the last few days.

Sixty-three persons were arrested in this city when the police surrounded a meeting hall. One man, while trying to escape, killed a policeman and wounded an officer. He then committed suicide.

One hundred and fifty arrests were made at Jagbol. In the fighting that followed the raid on the meeting, one officer and several soldiers and anarchists were killed. The police station at Nova Zagora, in which some anarchist prisoners were confined, was stormed, two persons being killed. The anarchist Dascaloff, who is alleged to have thrown a bomb at Premier Stambouliski in a theater not long ago, also has been arrested.

GEORGIANS TO ATTEND LIBRARY CONFERENCE

Georgia library workers will send a delegation to the annual conference of the American Library association at Hot Springs April 25-28, it was announced Wednesday. The delegation will be headed by Miss Charlotte Templeton, secretary of the Georgia Library commission. Miss Tommie Dora Barker, librarian of the Atlanta Carnegie library, and Miss Susie Lee Crumley, principal of the local Carnegie library school, will make addresses at the conference.

Each species of frog has its typical call or song, with definite pitch and quality of tone.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

ADVANCING age with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted or sickness will follow. Neglected constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 25 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and mild, and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, coal-tar drugs and such things. They purge and weaken you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before. Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. E. M. Burgess of Enfield, N. C., who is 73, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Charles Chapman of Stapleton, Staten Island, N. Y., wasted fifteen years and considerable money on other remedies before finding steady relief with Syrup Pepsin.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps. Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

GEORGIA BATTLES PENNSYLVANIA IN ATHENS TODAY

Atlanta Club to Battle Daytona Outfit Today

Dumont Will Be Sent to Jacksonville to Have X-Ray Made of Foot Injury.

Palatka, Fla., March 28.—(Special.) Twelve Cracker will make the trip to Daytona tomorrow for the game with the club there in the Florida State league, according to announcement made by Manager Otto Miller following the practice this afternoon.

Three pitchers, two catchers, three outfielders and four infielders will make the trip by automobile. The players making the trip are as follows: Miller and Brock, catchers; Lewellyn, Williamson and Newberry, pitchers; Burke, Gannon and Jim Moore, outfielders; Herman, Ring, Eddie Moore and Graft, infielders. The party will return by auto immediately after the game and the daily practices will be resumed Friday and Saturday.

Manly Lewellyn and Buddy Williams, both right-handers, will probably be called upon to do the twirling, but Newberry, a left-hand youngster, will be carried along to be used in a pinch.

The remainder of the squad will be given a day's rest. Manager Miller and Johnny Brock will divide the catching duties, while Johnny Ring, who has been the sensation of the spring training at the short field position, will be shifted to the key position and Eddie Moore, who was on the Cracker squad last season will be used at short. Freddie Graft, veteran Southern league third sacker, will be at the hot corner.

Herman Reports.
"Babe" Herman, the rangy first sacker secured from the Boston Red Sox, reported to Manager Miller at noon today and will make the trip with the squad for the game. Herman worked out with the squad this afternoon and Manager Miller seemed well pleased with the performance of the youngster. Herman seemed affected very little by the long ride from Hot Springs, where he has been in camp with the Red Sox. Herman scooped the ball up out of the dirt and pulled a rather high ones down, while he covered a lot of territory around the first sack. Herman should go good in Southern league company this season.

Ricks, the other first sacker in camp, who opted with the remainder of the squad, was released immediately upon the arrival of Herman. He will report to some other club but to date has not made his plans known.

All of the squad is in excellent condition with the exception of George Dumont, right hand twirler, who has been unable to practice because of a bad foot. Manager Miller received a telegram from President Corbett this afternoon advising him to send Dumont to Jacksonville to have an X-ray of the injury made. It is hoped that Dumont will be in excellent shape by the time the squad hits the road on the exhibition tour.

Big Squad on Tour.
Approximately 20 men will be carried on the tour. Ollie Mangard, the only second baseman in camp at the present time, will probably get the game before time to break camp. "Snooks" Bowd, second sacker recently secured by the Cracker, is expected to join the squad before the end of the week, but if he fails to arrive Johnny Ring will probably be shifted to the shortstop position.

Glenn Kilgore will report Monday or Tuesday and the squad will be complete with the exception of an outfielder promised by President Corbett. He will probably join the squad at Charlotte.

Arrangements for the exhibition tour, which will carry the squad through North and South Carolina, are rapidly being completed, according to the shortstop position.

NUGRAPE HAS BALL OUTFIT

BY M. D. GLEASON.
A. E. Kelley, president, and O. R. Randall, general manager of the NuGrape company, announce that the NuGrape team will put out a fast independent baseball team that will compare with the World's Fair team of Atlanta. They have bought the finest complete baseball outfit to be had in the city of Atlanta. The uniforms are white, like the Atlanta home uniforms, and are trimmed in purple with purple caps, purple hose and purple lettering.

Mr. Randall further declared that he had authorized his office to arrange with every bottling plant of NuGrape in this part of the country to rig up games with the best teams in their vicinity and to act as hosts for this NuGrape team, while playing these games.

Max Jacobs, the manager of the Atlanta NuGrape bottling company, who came in this office while the deal was being completed for the suits said he would start the ball-rolling by arranging a game with the World's Fair team at Atlanta, Georgia, on Saturday afternoon, just before the Penn State-Oglethorpe game which takes place also at this new park.

TIGERS WIN IN SLUGFEST
Rome, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) A travesty on baseball may have amused but certainly did not interest the more than a thousand spectators who braved a cold and searching wind to attend the Detroit-Rochester game at the Landale baseball park this afternoon.

The Detroit Tigers were very vicious tigers, indeed, and the Rochester International leaguers were decidedly not international in skill if their exhibition today is a fair criterion. Detroit won, 21-11.

It is true that Ty Cobb made a sensational catch and a home run, garnering four hits, altogether. But one man doesn't make a baseball game. Rochester made a few less errors than hits.

It might not be fair to say that the teams didn't try to play ball; perhaps they did, but it wasn't much of a game.

Score by innings: R. Detroit, 7 1 3 4 0 6 1 1 21; Rochester, 0 2 0 4 2 2 0 0 11.

Summary—Two-base hits, Cobb, Griffen; three-base hits, Command, Cobb; home runs, Cobb, Meekle, Bessler, Hillman. Umpires, Gaston, Johnson.

Miss Collett Wins.
Pinehurst, N. C., March 28.—Miss Gienna Collett, of Providence, R. I., today defeated Miss Marion Hollins, of New York, by 5 and 4 in the final round of the north and south women's golf championship tournament. Miss Collett thus retains her title.

Macon, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) Yale continued its hard hitting in the second game of the spring training series here this afternoon, defeating Mercer university 26 to 0. Hickey was a little wild and was replaced by Fond in the fifth inning, when Mercer started a batting rally.

Yale have, but is believed to be seriously hurt. He will be in the game in a day or two.

A cold drizzling rain began to fall during the third inning but the teams finished the contest. Stick work of Kelley, who made a double and two singles in three trips to the plate, and Cosgrove, who was tried out at third base, making a pair of two-base hits, featured.

'HOUSE OF DAVID' HEARING AT END

Judge Expects to Announce Decision in Case Within Next Twenty-Five Days.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 28.—Hearings in the suit of John W. Hansell for a financial settlement with the Isaacite House of David, in which a score of witnesses for the plaintiff testified to practices within the Benton Harbor colony, some of them alleging immorality, were concluded in federal district court here today. Sixty witnesses called by the defense re-affirmed their faith in the cult.

A decision may be expected within 25 days, the court announced.

Hansell, a former member, charged that he was expelled from the colony December 28, 1920, and that property he turned over to Benjamin Curren, head of the cult, was not returned to him. He sought to recover this, together with pay for his labor as a member, which he valued at $80,000.

Basis of Charge. Fraud was charged on the ground that the organization, under the guise of religious teachings, was a business venture.

The defense charged Hansell with misconduct toward women members and alleged he had instigated a plot to wreck the colony and establish a new order at Nashville, Tenn., with the aid of House of David funds, which it was said, were to be seized during the proposed "revolt."

The hearing ended unexpectedly today when the defense exhausted its list of witnesses.

Testimony of the final day was largely a continuation of denial by defense witnesses of charges against the cult leaders, and was interspersed with several affidavits from Judge John E. Sater, president, and H. J. Dewhurst, chief of counsel for the defense.

While most of the testimony disclosed knowledge of immoral practices, Dewhurst, on cross-examination, asserted he saw Myrtle Tule, a young woman member, emerge from the room of Purcell at the House of Shiloh, one morning at 5:30 o'clock.

Counsel Reprimanded. Attorney Dewhurst's first exclamation with Judge Sater occurred during examination of James T. Tucker, a character witness for Purcell. The attorney offered as exhibits several letters addressed to Purcell, most of which were dated since the beginning of the hearing. Refusing them but because they were anonymous, the court reprimanded the attorney for attempting to put such letters into the record.

Testimony of Joseph Hamford, a member of the "fifth church," who said he came to Benton Harbor with 85 prospective members from Australia, brought another clash. Hamford declared Esther Hansell, star witness for the plaintiff and a former private secretary of Purcell, had "had name" in the colony. The defendant was held by the court who testified the woman could occupy such a high place in the cult without a clean, virtuous character.

The judge also wanted to know if the statement, if true, was not a reflection on the condition existing within the colony.

This court has over 2,000 fatal fatal accidents a year and the United Kingdom one-half that number. It is by no means from Detroit to Chicago, proved successful recently.

It is, however, common to hold nearly $1,000,000 of foreign investments, more than any other class of investors.

Juvenile Suicide Record Doubled Since World War

Boy Suicides Average 16 Years Old, With Girls Fifteen Years.

New York, March 28.—The number of suicides among young people has almost doubled since the world war. Dr. Harry M. Warren, president of the Save-a-Life League, declared in his report for 1932, made public today.

From 177 juvenile suicides in 1919, the known total had jumped to 300 in 1932, the report declared, with a probability that for every known suicide there was one self-inflicted death not so listed. The total number of suicides tabulated for the year was 13,320.

Boy suicides averaged in age 16 years, while the girls who died by their own hand averaged 15. One boy left a note that he was killing himself "just for the fun of it." In 1920 there was a new thrill. "Just to get a new thrill." Another took poison because she didn't like the way she looked with her hair bobbed.

Existence of at least one "suicide club" of girls was disclosed, while numerous suicide pacts were reported.

Three Main Causes. Discussing child suicide, Dr. Warren listed as the three principal causes: intolerable home conditions, faulty school system, and temperamental disorders.

"Child marriage," he continued, "is another serious cause." In 1920 there were 1,000 boys and 12,000 girls 15 years of age in the United States listed as married. Nearly 500 of them were recorded as divorced or widowed.

Existence of these children soon after marriage find that they have made a great mistake in their choice; quarrel and separate; get divorced and supply plenty of our suicides as well as homicides.

Among other great classes of suicides, Mr. Warren listed shell shocked and disabled soldiers, more than 1,000 of whom have ended their lives since the war.

"While some who end their lives are among the poor," the report continued, "a large number belong to the socially prominent and financially prosperous. There were 38 college students, 50 college professors and school teachers, 10 preachers, and leaders of religious work, 52 judges and lawyers, 84 physicians, about 100 presidents and heads of large business concerns, 79 millionaires, 46 wealthy women, 88 bankers, several being bank presidents. One person, anxious to die, made ten attempts before succeeding."

Trivial Causes. "New York City, where 829 ended their lives (equal to two daily and four on Sundays) has had in recent years an unusual number of suicides among themselves in front of subway trains and from high buildings."

"As usual, many have destroyed themselves for causes most trivial. Several because of gossiping tongues. A man because he was forced to quit playing golf. A woman killed herself after missing two trains. A man because he could not find a room. A designer was driven to suicide trying to guess the coming spring styles for women."

These are some of the causes and figures are sent on Easter morning may be the strongest sermon that could be preached. The weakening of religious belief in many persons is to blame for many suicides."

INFANT IN MACON STARVES TO DEATH; BLAME IGNORANCE

Macon, Ga., March 28.—In connection with the death of a three-month-old infant, investigated by a coroner's jury today, Adjutant G. B. Austin, of the Salvation Army, made a statement this afternoon which clears up any mystery that may have been attached to the case of the child of Melvin M. Minor and wife, of Richmond, Ind.

"Minor came to me and told me he was out of work, the child was sick and he needed aid," said the Salvation Army leader. "We gave him aid. The child died Monday morning and the father sent me from one to another. The county gave a casket, a lumber yard the material for the box and the county gave a lot in which to bury the infant. Then the order for burial was issued. This took from Monday until today, and when we went out to have the funeral today, the coroner's jury was there."

County physician Dr. Henry W. Ship, testified at the coroner's inquest that malnutrition was sufficient to have caused the child's death, but that the malnourished condition could have been due to ignorance on the part of the parents regarding the proper diet. The doctor said that he discovered an abrasion on the right cheek bone, but was unable to locate any fracture.

The coroner's jury this afternoon reached the verdict that the baby died from starvation due to the ignorance and neglect of the parents in caring for the child.

LARGE ACREAGE OF WATERMELONS PLANNED IN MACON

Montezuma, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) Watermelon growers and local buyers state that the acreage planted to watermelons in this section will be considerable, through probably not as large as usual.

Growers feel that this season offers them one decided advantage over previous years. Usually the melons from middle Georgia come on the market just as it is glutted with the melons of south Georgia which come in about two weeks in advance of those of this section.

This year, however, the early planting in south Georgia was killed by the recent freeze and melons from both sections will be ready for market at about the same time. Many think that melon-growers here have the best opportunity they have had in years.

BERNHARDT RESTS IN FAMED CASKET

Rosewood Coffin, Made to Her Order 30 Years Ago, Holds "Divine Sarah."

Paris, March 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—The body of Sarah Bernhardt tonight rested in the famous Rosewood casket lined with white satin which was made at her order, 30 years ago, in which she was frequently photographed while on her foreign tours.

Abbe Loutil, cure of the church of St. Francois des Sales, where the funeral service will be held tomorrow noon, said the last prayers over the great artist today. She was tenderly placed in the coffin, which was taken to the ground floor of the home where a room has been transformed into a chapel.

Bernhardt still is clad in her white satin dress. Over her face and hair a fine lace veil has been drawn. On her breast is pinned the Cross of the Legion of Honor, and around her neck is a ribbon holding the gold locket containing the picture and lock of hair of her son, Maurice, which she always wore.

The casket was closed, except for the upper part. The prayers over the interrupted passage of mourners was resumed.

The casket will be taken to the church early tomorrow and after the services the funeral procession will go to the cemetery Pere Lachaise, where the body will be placed in a simple iron casket. The coffin will be borne on a palanquin and bearing only one word: "Bernhardt."

Clergy authorities had hoped to hold the service in some grand hall, but Bernhardt's wish was that it be simple, and her preference was for the relatively small church which she attended while in Paris. There will be no oration at the funeral, in compliance with her wish, but her desire for "many flowers" is certain to be gratified by the public.

MAUNOURY, HEROIC WAR LEADER, DEAD

French General Who Blocked German March on Paris, Dies Suddenly on Train.

Orleans, France, March 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Maunoury, former military governor of Paris, was seized with a fainting fit and died on a train today shortly after leaving for Bordeaux.

General Michel Joseph Maunoury was one of the heroes in the French defeat of the German advance on Paris. Although retired in 1912, he was put in command of a force near Verdun and in a few days was sent by Joffre to the extreme left wing to parry the rapid advance of the German right wing on Paris.

He was severely wounded on March 12, 1918, his left eye being destroyed and his jaw broken while inspecting the enemy's position from the first line trenches.

He served in the war of 1870 and later was professor of artillery at St. Cyr and military governor of Paris. He was 70 years old.

TWENTY ALLEGED CON MEN FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

Denver, Colo., March 28.—A jury trying 20 members of an alleged nationwide confidence ring returned a verdict this afternoon finding all of them guilty.

The jury had been out since 10:45 last Saturday morning.

George E. Sharpe, one of the jurors, made his acceptance of the verdict "conditional," but when questioned by Judge G. F. Dunklee, concurred in the finding. He later explained that he had been sick since Saturday, but that the decision had been reached of his own volition.

Horace N. Hawkins, counsel for the defense, entered formal objection to the verdict, claiming that it had been reached as a result of physical distress of a juror, S. H. White, special prosecutor, said illness had merely delayed and had not changed the verdict. The court accepted the verdict.

The jurors presented a paper to the court which requested leniency for the defendants.

Georgia Products Used Everywhere Speaker Declares

Urges Georgia Not to Remain Aloof From Rest of the World.

Speaking yesterday before a group of parents and teachers, members of the W. F. Slaton school Parent-Teacher association, Lieutenant B. C. Gettlinger, chief of the South Atlantic office of the United States department of commerce, pointed out the growing importance of foreign commerce to Georgia. Mr. Gettlinger, president of the association, presided.

"There is hardly a product in our households that does not have its origin in another country," he stated. "The mahogany of our furniture probably comes from Nicaragua, the leather of our shoes, and the hair that holds the plaster together on our walls from cattle that once roamed the plains of Argentina, the buttons of our clothes from Ecuador or the Bahamas, the rubber in our automobile tires from Brazil and the 'tin' in their bodies from Bolivia."

"There are several hundred products raised or mined or manufactured in Georgia without which the rest of the world would be destitute indeed. Cotton, of course, is the foremost, and goes to clothe the native of far-away Peking and the highest-caste Manchu of the Far East. Our fruits are famed in many lands. Our turpentine has probably spread over a fair share of the earth's surface as an ingredient of paint. Georgia bauxite enters into the aluminum and our clays into the china that is used in foreign countries."

"In short," he declared, "Georgia cannot remain aloof and independent from the rest of the world, for an individual can from his city, in our modern scheme of organization, it is a mistake to believe that this country is isolated, when even a superficial review of facts will prove to anyone that we are largely dependent on the rest of the world and other countries likewise on us."

Chamber of Commerce Makes Plans For Municipal Chorus

Atlanta is to have a municipal chorus. "The object of such a chorus is to say in song the welcome which has heretofore been spoken to conventions and meetings." As soon as the chorus is organized, continued Miss Westbrook, "a prize of $10 will be offered for the best poem of welcoming words which can be set to music to be used as a song of welcome. The poem must be written by an Atlanta resident and embody something of the spirit of Atlanta, for, surely there is enough inspiration in the very atmosphere of this wonderful city."

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. Family remedy. Stops coughs quickly. Made. Saves about 5¢.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and do not accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Opera Musicale At Woman's Club Proves Popular

The singing of Byron Warner was an outstanding feature of the opera musicale at the Atlanta Woman's club on Wednesday afternoon on which occasion "Lucia di Lammermoor" was the theme. "Thou Hast Spread Thy Wings of Heaven" was the aria which formed the vehicle for Mr. Warner's fine voice and technique.

Mrs. Grace Lee Brown Townsend was heard in the famous aria from the "mad scene," which bears the title "East Thou One Flower On My Grave," requiring exceptional powers of vocalization. Mrs. Townsend proved adequate to the demands upon voice and training and was given an ovation at the close.

The ever beautiful sextet was rendered by a group of popular singers, which included Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Helen Conway, Byron Warner, Harry Pomar, Charles Hoke and Thomas Hoffman. The singers were applauded enthusiastically by a large audience in which many regular opera-goers were noted. Miss Edith Bartholomew was the accompanist and gave thoroughly artistic musical support.

Against the beautiful background of quantities of white spring flowers and Easter lilies Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin's interpretation of the story upon which the libretto of the opera was founded was a satisfying performance worthy of the traditions with which the long list of great singers and actresses has been a favorite channel for expression.

Services will be conducted at all churches every night during the period announced, with a central union meeting each day at 12 o'clock at the First Baptist church. Classification of All Vehicles Advocated in New Magazine.
Advocation of numerous amendments to the present motor vehicle law in Georgia, including classification of all vehicles whether they be buggy, wagon or tractor in the same class with automobiles which would require the payment of taxes, is contained in the first edition of "Georgia Highways," official magazine of the Georgia highway commission, just off the press.

At the next session of the general assembly it is the intention of the highway commission to seek amendments of the present motor laws, according to the magazine, as to protect the state roads from abuse by vehicles having cleats and spikes on the wheels.

Still another amendment proposed is to require all motor line operators to pay a $75 tax regardless of whether they convey less than 10 passengers. It is claimed that these operators dodge this tax by hauling only nine passengers, the present law affecting those that haul more than ten.

Another amendment would require all vehicles to display tags on both front and rear of the machine.

BY E. J. RATH

Next Week, "Jill-Bett"
By Laura Jean Libbey

"And so we arrive," said Pete, as he stopped the car in front of the boarding house and glanced up at its gloomy front. "No shrieking, no police whistles, no general alarm. Allow me."

He assisted her from the car and escorted her across the sidewalk. "You need not come up the steps," she said.

"But already he was urging her up the steps, with a firm yet considerate grip on her arm. Also, he rang the bell."

"Thank you," said Nell, hurriedly. "That will be all, if you please." "Suppose they should not hear your ring. Suppose you had to sit on the top step all night? No; I should never forgive myself. It is my duty to remain until— Ah! The con- cierge."

The door opened and the landlady peered out into the vestibule. "Madam," said Pete, removing his hat, "I have the honor to leave in your charge Miss Wayne. May I ask that you show her every consideration, inasmuch as she is somewhat indis- posed?"

"Miss Wayne," echoed the land- lady. "There's nobody here—"

And then, in a flicker of light that came from the hallway, she estab- lished an identification. At the same in- stant Nell pushed weakly past her and stumbled into the house.

"There! I told her she wasn't fit to go out," declared the landlady. "I warned her. I knew she'd pay for it. But you can't drill sense into some people; not a particle."

She seemed to be soliloquizing, rather than addressing the stranger on her doorstep. But Pete was not inter- ested in the soliloquy. There was a matter that mystified him. He inter- rupted.

"When I presented Miss Wayne did I understand you to say—"

She suddenly remembered that he was there.

"None of your business, young man. And don't stand around on my front steps."

Then she was gone, with a slam- ming of the door that echoed through the lonely hall. Pete decided that her advice was sound; there was nothing to be done by standing there. He walked down the steps, climbed into the car and drove slowly off.

"Something is peculiar," he ob- served, half aloud. "Let us examine the facts."

All the way back to the Marshall house he examined the facts, but when he backed the car into the garage he had reached no conclusion.

Another conversation had been in progress during the time that Pete Stearns was playing rescue to a stricken lady. For a considerable time all the conversation flowed from one pair of lips.

Bill walked during most of it. He could not manage to stay in one place; the torrent literally buffeted him about the room. At last, inevitably, there came a pause.

"That's more than I ever stood from anybody," Bill said slowly.

"Then you have been neglected in the past," Mary shot back.

"I think you'd better remember your position and mine. If I were you, I'd bear in mind that you're my secre- tary—not my boss. If I were you—"

Mary sprang to her feet. "I'm not your secretary. I resign."

Saying which, she sat down again and burst into tears.

The wrath in Bill's eyes faded slowly. In its place came a look of dis- may, of astonishment of clumsy em- barrassment.

"Aw, hell!" he muttered under his breath.

Mary did not hear him. She was too much preoccupied with her sobs. She began searching blindly for a handkerchief, and was not aware of what she did when she accepted Bill's, which he hastily offered.

"Don't cry," he advised.

He might as well have advised the sky not to rain.

"Oh, come, Miss Norcross; please don't cry."

"I—I will cry!"

"Well, then, don't resign," he said. "I will resign."

"See here; I'll try to do better," he promised. "I'm sorry. I didn't mean to hurt your feelings."

"It's too—too late now," sobbed Mary.

"No, it isn't. We'll start all over again. Come, now."

She shook her head miserably. "Pup-pu-pu-pu!" she wailed. "I—I want to resign."

Bill watched her as she curled up in the chair, tucked her feet under her party dress and hunted for a dry spot on the handkerchief.

"I wonder if it would be all right for me to cuddle her," he mused. "The poor kid needs it; maybe she expects it. Well, such being the case—"

A knock, a door opening, and Pete Stearns. He sensed the situation at a glance and winked at Bill.

"I just wished to report, sir, that I escorted Miss Wayne to her home and left her feeling somewhat bet- ter."

Mary hastily dabbed her eyes and looked at him.

"She's all right? You're sure?"

"Miss Wayne is quite all right, ma'am." He accepted the name, war-bling Mary as his sister.

"Thank you very much, Pete," she said.

That's Different

WHY DIDN'T YOU LET THE DENTIST PULL YOUR TOOTH? WITH THAT TOOTHACHE!

DEAR ME! I CAN HARDLY BELIEVE I'VE DRIVEN 60 MILES!

WHO LET HIM OUT?

"Once she got out into the air, ma'am—"

Bill interrupted him with a perem- ptory gesture. Pete winked again and backed out.

Ten minutes later Mary Wayne was more concerned about the probability that her nose was red than she was about her status as Bill Marshall's secretary. Bill was smoking a ci- garette and looking thoughtful. He did not know whether it would have been all right to cuddle her or not. The inopportune of Pete Stearns had left the question open.

"I think I'll go to bed," said Mary. Bill went to the door and paused with his hand on the knob.

"That resignation doesn't go, you know," he said.

"Good night," answered Mary. "Do you withdraw it?"

"I—I'll think about it. Will you open the door, please?"

He opened it a little way.

"I've got to know, definitely," he said, with great firmness.

"Well, perhaps—if you really want."

"Atta boy," said Bill, with a gen- eral patting of her shoulder. "I mean, attie boy. But listen: if you ever pull a resignation on me again I'll—"

Mary looked up, a question in her eyes. Would he really accept it, really?

"Why, I'll spank you—you freckle- faced little devil!"

Mary gazed the door full wide and ran down the hall. Bill watched hope- fully, but she never looked back.

CHAPTER XI

To the horror of Bill, the undis- guised wonder of Pete, and unex- pected joy of Mary, Aunt Caroline an- nounced herself as much pleased with the party.

To the horror of Bill, they were on terms again. Mary had not for- gotten what he called her as she fled to her room; it was the second time he had alluded to her freckles, and hitherto she had been wont to regard as a liability.

Further, a sort of three-cornered alliance had grown out of all this, so that Pete came to be included in the triangle. This was tacit as be- tween Pete and Mary, although it was directly responsible for certain covert inquiries that Pete made from time to time concerning "Miss Wayne."

Aunt Caroline lost no time in urg- ing further assaults and triumphs in the new world that had been opened to her nephew. She suggested a small dinner with Mrs. Rokeby-Jones as a guest, Mary to invite her.

To Mary's surprise Mrs. Rokeby- Jones denied ever having known a Nell Norcross, and hung up the re- ceiver.

Mary thereupon went post-haste to see Nell, and there heard a confes- sion that every reference Nell had used was bogus, forced. Nell did not even know the women whose names she had used. All she knew when she wrote them was that she needed a job.

That flattened Mary's spirits. But no source did she arrive at the Mar- shall's house than Bill gave her a new problem. He had heard of the projected dinner and was wholly opposed to it. As Mary had no desire for it, they were not long in hitting upon the idea of chartering a yacht and mak- ing a cruise of society's summer ports.

Aunt Caroline fell in readily with the scheme, and the result was that within a few days they went aboard the Sunshine which lay at anchor in the Hudson.

Bill decided that they would not sail until late in the evening. This was because he had an errand ashore which he could trust to nobody, not even to Pete Stearns. In fact he did not consider it wisdom to take Pete into his confidence.

When he asked for the launch he learned that Mary and Pete had gone ashore an hour earlier, a fact that disturbed him not a little. What sort of an affair was in progress between his sister and her secretary?

But Bill's suspicions were unfound- ed. Pete had gone ashore when Mary did because he had a shrewd suspicion of his own as to where she was going. He shadowed her and wait- ed across the street while she sat on the steps of Nell Norcross's boarding house talking to Nell.

When Mary left Pete crossed the street in time to intercept Nell, who had risen to go in. She sat down again

At the annual meeting to elect a president and officers, an opposition ticket was put forward but there was no result owing to interference by the police.

OCCUPATION TAX HIT BY HOOPER ALEXANDER

City Will Have to Bear Disproportionate Tax Burden, He Says.

A serious situation confronts Atlantans in the operation of the occupation tax law passed by the legislature in 1921 and recently upheld by the supreme court, according to Hooper Alexander, former United States district attorney, who explained the tax provisions to the members of the Masonic club at their luncheon Wednesday at the Peachtree cafe.

Mr. Alexander stated that Atlanta would have to bear the brunt of the burden in payment of this tax, because the city is the largest city in the state, the tax being based on the size of the city, and cited as an instance two cigar stands, one in Decatur and the other a few blocks away, in Atlanta. While the stand in Decatur pays only $20 tax to the state, the one in Atlanta pays $75, although the former does the greater volume of business.

"This situation is the fault of the people of Atlanta and the Atlanta newspapers," he said. "Here's Fulton county with 200,000 people and only three votes in the legislature, while three counties with three or four hundred votes can out-vote Atlanta. This condition has prevailed for 40 years."

He predicted that this tax would be the means whereby any indebtedness that faced the incoming administration would be raised, as the ad valorem tax had been raised to the limit.

The program of entertainment was headed by Mrs. Margaret Fisher, dramatic reader; Miss Mary Buttrick, soprano; and Mrs. W. W. Massey, pianist.

Machine for Use On Big Memorial Meets All Tests

Success Is Proved at Public Showing Given by Gutzon Borglum.

The first public test of the specially constructed projecting machine to be used by Gutzon Borglum in preparing for the carving of the Confederate memorial upon the surface of Stone Mountain was successfully conducted last night. An initial showing was held Tuesday night by the sculptor.

Mr. Borglum declared himself to be enthusiastic over the success of the machine, saying that it had come up to, and above, his expectations. With the use of this projector months and months of tiring labor will be saved. Without it the sculptor would have been forced to sketch his figures upon the rock's surface, and should any slight change be required it would necessitate removing the entire drawing and beginning work anew.

But with the projector the pictures may be thrown upon the mountain side and placed in the proper position with only the moving of the machine's adjustments.

Mr. Borglum will cover the side upon which the figures are to be carved with nitrate of silver, which will form a black sheet. Then the figures will be cast and a developing spray used over them, thus reproducing them in outline upon the mountain.

Work to Begin April 16.
After this process is finished work will be lowered over the side to outline the picture so that the actual carving may be begun. This will require a great deal of tedious and careful work, and just how long it will take is undetermined. Mr. Borglum stated that the work of reproducing the figures will be started April 16.

First one stands at the base of mighty and solemn Stone Mountain and looks upon the figures of the horses and men, 200 feet in height, it is impossible to conceive of the greatness of the task undertaken. Nothing to compare with it has ever been attempted, or possibly thought of, in sculpture.

His sword will extend 38 feet and his horse's head will be 30 feet long. The human eye cannot visualize the magnitude of the figures. Standing 700 feet away from the mountain side it is impossible to conceive of their greatness in size.

When Mr. Borglum first thought of employing the projecting machine as a means of sketching the memorial there was not a machine in the world powerful enough to do the required work. Scientists and engineers assured him that no lens could possibly stand the heat necessary to reflect a slide a distance of 700 feet. But he persisted. He consulted S. E. Porter, director of a large cinema production firm, consulted with the sculptor and announced that he could build the projector needed. With a little world discouraging them, Mr. Porter and the sculptor went to work. For days and nights they labored faithfully at their tasks.

Two thousand two hundred dollars was spent for materials. But finally their efforts were rewarded and the machine constructed. It was then brought to Atlanta and installed in a little house, built for that purpose, at the foot of the mountain.

The lenses are water-cooled and will stand a very high temperature. These lenses are so constructed that a single square upon slide may be projected upon the mountain enlarged an inch in width. The slides, measuring two and one-half inches, cast a reflection of approximately 200 feet at a distance of 700 feet.

Many prominent Atlantans motored to the mountain with Mr. Borglum to witness the exhibition.

57 ARE KILLED IN CIVIL WARFARE AT PARAGUAY TOWN

Buenos Aires, March 28.—Fifty-seven persons were killed and twenty wounded in fighting between government forces and rebels in the town of Villarrica, Paraguay, when government troops forced the rebels to evacuate the town, according to a dispatch to La Nacion from Asuncion.

Dr. John Mulowney Will Tell of Work of Mehary College

Dr. John J. Mulowney, president of Mehary Medical college, Nashville, Tenn., will be accorded a public reception at the First Congregational church, colored, by the alumni and prominent citizens of Atlanta at 8 o'clock Friday night at which time he will tell of the wonderful work of the school and its outlook. The meeting is sponsored by the Atlanta Medical association.

Colonel Hugh Mercer, youngest son of General Hugh Mercer, of revolutionary war fame, was the only foster-child the American Republic ever had. April 5, 1777, the continental congress resolved to erect an appropriate monument to his father, and to educate the boy from that time at the expense of the United States. The monument was never erected, but the promises to the living were faithfully performed. The boy was only five months old when the hero fell in battle at Princeton.
